Enrollment

THIS PAGE INCLUDES:

>> Enrollment

On this page, enter the number of candidates for an initial teaching credential who are enrolled in the initial teacher preparation programs within your institution of higher education (IHE) or organization. Do not report on the total number of students enrolled in the entire IHE. Do not include individuals who currently hold a teaching credential and are seeking additional licenses or endorsements, or individuals preparing for school-based careers other than classroom teachers (e.g., administrators, guidance counselors).

The Department recognizes that in many cases, candidates voluntarily report their race/ethnicity and gender data, and that in some cases, candidates may choose not to report this information. Please report on the race/ethnicity data you have available, though the data may not be complete. It is not expected that the sum of the enrolled students reported by race/ethnicity or by gender will necessarily equal the total number of students enrolled.

If your IHE offers both traditional and alternative programs, be sure to enter the candidates enrolled in the appropriate reports. For the traditional report, provide only the candidates enrolled in traditional programs within the IHE. For the alternative report, provide only the candidates enrolled in the alternative programs within the IHE.

After entering the enrollment data, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

Enrollment

For the purpose of Title II reporting, an enrolled student is defined as a student who has been admitted to a teacher preparation program, but who has not completed the program during the academic year being reported. An individual who completed the program during the academic year being reported is counted as a program completer and not an enrolled student.

Provide the number of students in the teacher preparation program in the following categories. Note that you must report on the number of students by ethnicity and race separately. Individuals who are non-Hispanic/Latino will be reported in one of the race categories. Also note that individuals can belong to one or more racial groups, so the sum of the members of each racial category may not necessarily add up to the total number of students enrolled. Teachers Prepared

On this page, enter the number of program completers by the subject area in which they were prepared to teach, and by their academic majors. Note that an individual can be counted in more than one academic major and subject area. For example, if an individual is prepared to teach Elementary Education and Mathematics, that individual should be counted in both subject areas. If no individuals were prepared in a particular academic major or subject area, you may leave the cell blank. Please use the "Other" category sparingly, if there is no similar subject area or academic major listed. In these cases, you should use the text box to describe the subject area(s) and/or the academic major(s) counted in the "Other" category.

If your IHE offers both traditional and alternative programs, be sure to enter the program completers in the appropriate reports. For the traditional report, provide only the program completers in traditional programs within the IHE. For the alternative report, provide only the program completers for the alternative programs within the IHE.

After entering the teachers prepared data, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

Teachers Prepared by Academic Major

Please provide the number of teachers prepared by academic major for academic year 2016-17. For the purposes of this section, number prepared means the number of program completers. "Academic major" refers to the actual major(s) declared by the program completer. An individual can be counted in more than one academic major. If no individuals were prepared in a particular academic major, please leave that cell blank. (§205\(b\)\(1\)\(H\))

Please note that the list of majors includes several "Teacher Education" majors, as well as several noneducation majors. Please use care in entering your majors to ensure education-specific majors and non-education majors are counted correctly. For example, if an individual majored in Chemistry, that individual should be counted in the "Chemistry" academic major category rather than the "Teacher Education–Chemistry" category.

Program Completers

On this page, enter the total number of individuals who completed the program in AY 2016-17 and the two prior academic years. If you submitted an IPRC last year, the number of program completers for the two prior academic years are pre-loaded from your prior year's report.

A program completer is a person who has met all the requirements of a state-approved teacher preparation program. Program completers include all those who are documented as having met such requirements. Documentation may take the form of a degree, institutional certificate, program credential, transcript or other written proof of having met the program's requirements. In applying this definition, the fact that an individual has or has not been recommended to the state for initial certification or licensure may not be used as a criterion for determining who is a program completer.

An individual cannot be classified as both enrolled and as a program completer at the same time. An enrolled individual is not a program completer. Once an individual has met all the requirements of a state-approved teacher preparation program and becomes a program completer, the individual is no longer classified as enrolled.

After entering the program completers, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

4. Description of strategies used to achieve goal, if applicable:

Due to budgetary concerns, we were unable to produce and disseminate recruitment materials for the 2016-2017 academic year.

5. Description of steps to improve performance in meeting goal or lessons learned in meeting goal, if applicable:

6. Provide any additional comments, exceptions and explanations below:

We believe the persistent economic situation in our state as well as the negative perception towards education in our state were attributing factors to the lack of interest in science teaching during this academic year.

- Yes
 No (leave remaining questions for year blank)

8. How many prospective teachers did your program plan to add in science in 2017-18?

9. Provide any additional comments, exceptions and explanations below:

The science education faculty hosted a campus-wide solar eclipse watch party in August 2017. We used this event as a recruitment tool to attract undecided or science majors to consider applying to our science education program. We continue to believe the persistent economic situation in our state as well as the negative perception towards education in our state are attributing factors to the lack of interest in science teaching during this academic year. We did receive an increase in prospective students who changed majors from a STEM field to science education and who are adding on a teacher endorsement to their current science degree programs.

10. Will your program prepare teachers in science in 2018-19?

- Yes
 No (leave remaining questions for year blank)

11. How many prospective teachers does your program plan to add in science in 2018-19?

12. Provide any additional comments, exceptions and explanations below:

We hope that we can build on the positive momentum of the statewide teacher walkout and the legislative decision to increase teaching salaries and funding dedicated to common education as recruitment tools to attract a quality pool of applicants. We will work with our college-level advising office to streamline communications with the University College on our campus, which 'houses' all undecided and first-year declared majors during their freshman year. Through this communicative relationship, we hope to identify students whose interests, skills, and career goals align with our science education degree program.

Annual Goals - Special Education

Each institution of higher education (IHE) that conducts a traditional teacher preparation program (including programs that offer any ongoing professional development programs) or alternative route to state credential program, and that enrolls students receiving Federal assistance under this Act, shall set annual quantifiable goals for increasing the number of prospective teachers trained in teacher shortage areas designated by the Secretary or by the state educational agency, including mathematics, science, special education, and instruction of limited English proficient students. (§205\(a\)\(1\)\(A\)\(ii\), §206\(a\))

Information about teacher shortage areas can be found at <https://www2.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ope/pol/tsa.html>.

Please provide the information below about your program's goals to increase the number of prospective teachers in special education in each of three academic years.

3. Did your program meet the goal for prospective teachers set in special education in 2016-17?

- Yes
 No
 Not applicable

4. Description of strategies used to achieve goal, if applicable:

Special education faculty and those associated with the program (adjuncts and advising) have regular contact with students. Mandatory semester advising sessions have created a more organized and streamlined process to help students stay aware of coursework and what is happening in the program. Targeted efforts have been made to increase enrollment which will hopefully increase enrollment in future semesters.

5. Description of steps to improve performance in meeting goal or lessons learned in meeting goal, if applicable:

6. Provide any additional comments, exceptions and explanations below:

We added 12 prospective teachers, but this number could be as high as 14 once the March 17 full admission cycle concludes. In addition to the recruitment efforts of the 2015-16 Academic Year by the College of Education's Student Services and Undergraduate Student Advising office, the special education faculty started inviting Philip Johnson (college undergraduate advisor for students majoring in special education) to meet with us several times throughout the year to share trends, upcoming events, etc. This allowed the faculty to have a more realistic perspective on the number of students in the undergraduate program, where they stood with their required coursework and field experiences, etc. This information was helpful when faculty was planning for the next semester, speaking to prospective students and their parents, conference participants, administrators, and/or legislators

9. Provide any additional comments, exceptions and explanations below:

The special education faculty plans to continue recruiting as we have been and to work through and with the advisors in our College of Education's Student Services and Undergraduate Student Advising office. Special education faculty has also increased involvement in efforts at the college level to increase students.

12. Provide any additional comments, exceptions and explanations below:

The special education program has helped ensure that current and future students in special education. Advising has tremendously helped with course organization. Class times have been altered to help address some concerns with conflicting coursework and evening classtimes. An estimated 11 new admits have declared a major of special education and there are over 20 students who have contacted the advising office showing interest in special education.

Assurances

Please certify that your institution is in compliance with the following assurances. (§205\(a\)\(1\)\(A\)\(iii\), §206\(b\)) Note: Be prepared to provide documentation and evidence for your responses, when requested, to support the following assurances.

1. Preparation responds to the identified needs of the local educational agencies or States where the program completers are likely to teach, based on past hiring and recruitment trends.

- Yes
- No

2. Preparation is closely linked with the needs of schools and the instructional decisions new teachers face in the classroom.

- Yes
- No

3. Prospective special education teachers are prepared in core academic subjects and to instruct in core academic subjects.

- Yes
- No
- Program does not prepare special education teachers

4. Prospective general education teachers are prepared to provide instruction to students with disabilities.

- Yes
- No

5. Prospective general education teachers are prepared to provide instruction to limited English proficient students.

- Yes
- No

6. Prospective general education teachers are prepared to provide instruction to students from low-income families.

- Yes
- No

7. Prospective teachers are prepared to effectively teach in urban and rural schools, as applicable.

- Yes
- No

8. Describe your institution's most successful strategies in meeting the assurances listed above:

The most successful strategy for meeting the needs of local education agencies is maintaining national accreditation of the teacher preparation unit (e.g., NCATE, CAEP recognition) as well as maintaining recognition of each of our program of study (e.g., SPA recognition). The most successful strategy for meeting assurances associated with diversity is requiring varied field experiences (e.g., urban, suburban and rural) and streaming diversity-related issues (e.g., differentiated instruction, culturally-responsive pedagogy) throughout the teacher preparation program.

The table provides information on the performance of the students in your teacher preparation program on each teacher credential assessment used by your state. In cases where a student has taken a given assessment more than once, the highest score on that test is used. In the case of a teacher preparation program with fewer than 10 scores reported on any single initial teacher credential assessment during an academic year, the program shall collect and publish information with respect to an average pass rate and scaled score on each state credential assessment taken over a three-year period. (§205(a)(1)(B))

On this page, review the questions regarding your program's use of technology, and update as needed.

Note: This section is preloaded from the prior year's IPRC.

Use of Technology

1. Provide the following information about the use of technology in your teacher preparation program. Please note that choosing 'yes' indicates that your teacher preparation program would be able to provide evidence upon request. (§205\(a\)\(1\)\(F\))

Does your program prepare teachers to:

- a. integrate technology effectively into curricula and instruction

 Yes

 No

- b. use technology effectively to collect data to improve teaching and learning

 Yes

 No

- c. use technology effectively to manage data to improve teaching and learning

 Yes

 No

- d. use technology effectively to analyze data to improve teaching and learning

 Yes

 No

2. Provide a description of the evidence that your program uses to show that it prepares teachers to integrate technology effectively into curricula and instruction, and to use technology effectively to collect, manage, and analyze data in order to improve teaching and learning for the purpose of increasing student academic achievement. Include a description of the evidence your program uses to show that it prepares teachers to use the principles of universal design for learning, as applicable. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the four elements listed above are not currently in place.

All students in the Jeannine Rainbolt College of Education at the University of Oklahoma are required to take EIPT 3043 Learning with Educational Technologies. This course is designed based on the National Educational Technology Standards for Teachers from the International Society for Technology in Education (ISTE). These can be found at <http://cnets.iste.org>. Preservice teachers in our programs learn to participate and model information age communication and data analysis techniques with activities such as:

- The use of iPads in schools is discussed and observed.
- Creating a classroom course management site.
- interacting with Twitter for professional learning networks. (PLNs)
- Discussion of parental communication techniques using technology.

The preservice teachers learn different techniques for integrating technology into the curriculum by:

- Creating videos for classroom participation.
- Reviewing and critiquing how iPads are used in education and apps in education.
- Designing interactive learning activities using Interactive whiteboards and alternatives.
- Creating an iBook for online reading.

In addition, students write a variety of lesson plans that include assessment and scoring of technology projects created by students and using technology to aid in grading, feedback, and evaluation. We spend a lot of time focusing on objectives and assessment and how students can create measurable learning goals in relation to state and national standards. Through these lesson planning activities and a lesson on assistive technology, students are regularly called upon to plan to use technology to accommodate students with different learning needs and design lessons that are universal through technology use. This course does not look at long time data trends with technology but instead focuses on classroom implementation. Course readings throughout the program focus on trends and data in education as a whole.

Teacher Training

On this page, review the questions about how your program trains general education teachers and special education teachers. For the purposes of these questions, general education teachers means those who are not specifically prepared as special education teachers. If you submitted an IPRC last year, this section is pre-loaded from your prior year's report; please review and update as necessary.

Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the three elements listed above are not currently in place.

OU general education candidates learn about teaching students with disabilities effectively, participating as a member of individualized education program teams, and teaching students who are limited English proficient effectively by virtue of the required course all teacher candidates must take, EDSP 3054, Understanding and Accommodating Students with Exceptionalities. Course objectives and outcomes include: The candidate will be able to – *explain the relationship between special and general education in teaching children and youth with exceptionalities. *describe the procedure for developing appropriate special education programs for students. *describe issues regarding overrepresentation of culturally and linguistically diverse individuals in special education programs. *describe the areas of exceptionality addressed by IDEA, their characteristics, etiologies, and effective education.

3. Does your program prepare special education teachers to:

a. teach students with disabilities effectively

- Yes
 No

Program does not prepare special education teachers

b. participate as a member of individualized education program teams

- Yes
- No
- Program does not prepare special education teachers

c. teach students who are limited English proficient effectively

- Yes
- No
- Program does not prepare special education teachers

4. Provide a description of the evidence your program uses to show that it prepares special education teachers to teach students with disabilities effectively, including training related to participation as a member of individualized education program teams, as defined in section 614(d)(1)(B) of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, and to effectively teach students who are limited English proficient. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the three elements listed above are not currently in place.

The Special Education Program is designed to ensure that all program completers meet the standards established by the Council for Exceptional Children for beginning teachers of students with mild and moderate disabilities. All program completers over the last many years have met these required standards. Evidence of the quality of students completing the Special Education program is provided through student products, state certification examinations, as well as through information from school personnel who give very positive feedback regarding the students' teaching competencies. Students practice the knowledge and skills they have learned in their formal courses through extensive field experiences (more than 1,100 mentored hours by the time they complete their program). These field experiences include two intensive practica and two placements as interns. Thus, OU special education students have in-depth experience in four varied classroom environments with students of different ages and abilities levels. We anticipate that the high quality of our students will continue. We have not identified any program weaknesses but nevertheless we continue to assess regularly and use that data to further refine the program to meet changes in the field and society to ensure the continued high quality of our students.

- Individualized Education Programs OU special education students have many opportunities throughout the program to learn to be effective members of Individualized Education Programs Teams. Some examples are:
- In EDSP 3054, Understanding and Accommodating Students with Exceptionalities, students complete an IEP and Parents' Rights project.
- In EDSP 4023, Assessment for Eligibility and Program Planning, students use a case study to develop an IEP from the initial referral to conducting a hypothetical IEP team meeting.
