GENERAL INFORMATION

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA CAMPUSES

UNIVERSITY GOVERNANCE

The university is a part of the Oklahoma State System of Higher Education, which is composed of all higher education institutions supported wholly or in part by state appropriations. The Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education is the coordinating board for the system.

The University – as part of the public educational system of the state, established by legislative action and supported by annual legislative appropriations – places emphasis on sound scholarship, good citizenship, and the duties of the individual to the community and the commonwealth.

By constitutional enactment, the governance of the university is vested in the OU Board of Regents, a board consisting of seven members appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the State Senate. Each member is appointed to serve for seven years, except when appointed to fill an unexpired term, and is subject to removal from office only as provided by law for the removal of officers not liable to impeachment.

The Oklahoma State Regents and the university regents approve the requirements for admission and graduation, the degrees offered, and the fees and expenses. The boards reserve the right to change these requirements.

NORMAN CAMPUS

The central campus and the offices of administration of the University of Oklahoma are located on some 3,500 acres in Norman, a city of more than 100,000 residents. Norman is located near the center of the state, 20 miles south of Oklahoma City, the state capital.

The colleges housed on the Norman campus are University College, the Christopher C. Gibbs College of Architecture, the Dodge Family College of Arts and Sciences, the College of Atmospheric and Geographic Sciences, the Michael F. Price College of Business, the Mewbourne College of Earth and Energy, the Jeannine Rainbolt College of Education, the Gallogly College of Engineering, the Weitzenhoffer Family College of Fine Arts, the Graduate College, the Joe C. and Carole Kerr McClendon Honors College, the David L. Boren College of International Studies, the Gaylord College of Journalism and Mass Communication, the College of Law, and the College of Professional and Continuing Studies. The Norman campus is also headquarters for the College of Continuing Education, which directs non-credit outreach programs throughout the state.

The Norman campus consists of four sections – central campus, south campus, research campus, and north campus. Most of the academic and administrative buildings are located on the central campus, noted for its Cherokee Gothic architecture and award-winning landscaping. Also situated on the central campus are the university residence halls, which include residential colleges and other upperclassman housing; Sarkeys Energy Center; University Libraries; Fred Jones Jr. Museum of Art; Donald W. Reynolds Performing Arts Center, including historic Holmberg Hall; Rupel Jones Fine Arts Center, including Elsie C. Brackett Theatre; Catlett Music Center, including Sharp Concert Hall and Pitman Recital Hall; Oklahoma Memorial Union; recreational facilities, including the Sarkeys Fitness Center and the Murray Case Sells Swim Complex; Gaylord Family – Oklahoma Memorial Stadium; the Everest Indoor Training Center; and the Oklahoma Center for Continuing Education, a year-round educational center and conference site. Located one block east of the central campus is the OU Brandt Park and Duck Pond, a recreational area used throughout the year by OU students and Norman residents. David A. Burr Park is conveniently located near residence halls and other recreational facilities.

The first of its kind in the state, the OU Visitor Center serves all guests of the University of Oklahoma as a one-stop information and welcome center. This “front door” of the university is housed in historic Jacobson Faculty Hall and provides regular, guided tours for prospective students and advanced-scheduled group tours. Free parking passes for campus visitors are available at the Visitor Center. An extensive collection of photographs and art depicting the history and heritage of the university fills the Visitor Center. It also has been designated as a local Tourism Information Center by the Oklahoma Tourism & Recreation Department to provide state travel information. For complete visitor and tour information: Visitor Center (405) 325-2151 or 1-800-234-6868; or tour@ou.edu.

Research Campus

In less than a decade, the 277-acre OU Research Campus has been transformed from an empty field to a thriving economic engine shaped by a community of public and private sector collaborations located in nearly 1 million square feet of occupied space representing $300 million in investment. Today, the Research Campus brings together 1,700 workers across academic, federal, state and industrial organizations in a mutually beneficial environment.

The National Weather Center, a 257,000 square-foot facility that opened in 2006, anchors the OU Research Campus on the south. The Center houses both academic and federal groups dedicated to forecasting, research and training. The Stephenson Research and Technology Center and the Stephenson Life Sciences Research Center house cutting-edge research in fields including robotics, genomics, bioengineering and the OU Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry, which includes a National Institutes of Health-funded structural biology program. A series of five "Partners Place" buildings, totaling 362,000 square-feet, enable the public and private sector collaboration on weather and radar research; innovation and entrepreneurship; and water, climate, and energy. The OU Innovation Hub serves as a creative space for students and faculty in support of invention and entrepreneurship. Additionally, a 35,000 square-foot "one of a kind" Radar Innovations Laboratory opened in 2015.

OU's Research Campus has been certified by the Oklahoma Department of Commerce as Site Ready, which allows the university to capitalize on fast-moving economic opportunities and enables site selectors to readily find quality land and facilities that meet nationally established criteria. OU's Research Campus was named the nation's top research park for 2013 by the Association of University Research Parks, placing it among such past recipients as Research Triangle Park in North Carolina, Purdue Research Park in Indiana and University City Science Center in Pennsylvania.

North Campus

North campus, which is two miles north of the main campus, includes the Merrick Computer Center; Max Westheimer Airport, the University-operated airport that also serves the City of Norman; and Swearingen Research Park, where government agencies and industry have established facilities.

Other research and study units of the university include the Biological Station on Lake Texoma; the Sutton Avian Research Center in Bartlesville; the Oklahoma Geophysical Observatory at Leonard near Tulsa; the Aquatic Biology Fisheries Research Center in Noble near Norman; and the Oklahoma Biological Survey, the Oklahoma Archeological Survey and Charles M. Russell Center for the Study of Art of the American West in Norman. In addition, the Oklahoma Geological Survey is a state agency mandated in the Constitution of Oklahoma, and is part of the Mewbourne College of Earth and Energy at the University of Oklahoma.

HEALTH SCIENCES CENTER

The University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center (OUHSC) is one of the most comprehensive academic health centers in the nation, with programs in Oklahoma City, Tulsa, and Lawton; six professional Colleges and the Graduate College; research centers of excellence such as the Stephenson Cancer Center, Harold Hamm Diabetes Center, and Dean McGee Eye Institute; and the state's largest clinical group practice OU Health Physicians with over 1,200 credentialed providers. Students enroll in programs at the College of Allied Health, College of Dentistry, College of Medicine and School of Community Medicine, Fran and Earl Ziegler College of Nursing, College of Pharmacy, Hudson College of Public Health, and Graduate College.

The OUHSC prepares healthcare professionals and scientists to meet tomorrow's most complex healthcare needs, through research, discovery, and interdisciplinary education experiences. The OUHSC is a premier healthcare training institution for over 3,300 students, 80 post-doctoral researchers, and 800 residents and fellows, graduating physicians, biomedical and clinician scientists, nurses, dentists, pharmacists, allied health professionals, and public health leaders. Prominent OUHSC researchers receive the largest portfolio of National Institutes of Health (NIH) funding in the state, and commercialize new treatments and diagnostic tests, utilizing state-of-the-art research facilities such as the University Research Park, Stanton L. Young Biomedical Research Center, and Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation (OMRF). The Stephenson Cancer Center is the only National Cancer Institute (NCI) designated Center in Oklahoma and in the top 2 percent nationwide.

The OUHSC is a founding partner with the University Hospitals Authority and Trust of the academic health system OU Medicine, which includes OU Medical Center, The Children's Hospital, and OU Medical Center Edmond. The OUHSC and OU Medicine combine efforts as the only research-driven healthcare system in Oklahoma, with treatment options and expertise found nowhere else. The Tulsa campus is part of the OU Medicine statewide system partnership, and also has academic and clinical affiliations with the Hillcrest, St. Francis, and St. John health systems. OUHSC has additional affiliations with the Veterans Administration Medical Center in Oklahoma City, and other hospitals, clinics, health departments, and healthcare facilities across Oklahoma.

Scientists, scholars and clinicians at the OUHSC deliver healthcare solutions through bench-to-bedside-to-community research and through training the state's most comprehensive and skilled health workforce. The OUHSC is an essential partner for the state to improve health outcomes and drive economic growth and diversification.

OU-TULSA SCHUSTERMAN CENTER

The OU-Tulsa Schusterman Center is located in the heart of mid-town Tulsa at 41st and Yale. On this campus both the OU Health Sciences Center and the OU Norman Campus offer programs. The vision of OU-Tulsa is to build a nationally-recognized center of higher education excellence in select areas that emphasize strong campus-community partnerships and leverage unique opportunities and needs in the Tulsa region.

OU has a long history in the Tulsa area. The earliest program of the University of Oklahoma in Tulsa started in 1957 as a partnership with the Tulsa City-County Library. This program averaged 50 students a year and was one of the first programs to be part of the Tulsa Graduate Center, which became University Center at Tulsa in 1982. Recognizing the potential community impact of an expansion of OU services in Tulsa, the Oklahoma Legislature enacted Senate Bill 453 in 1972 that created a clinical branch of the University of Oklahoma College of Medicine in Tulsa. Today, the OU College of Medicine in Tulsa enrolls medical students and trains 181 residents who conduct 200,000 patient visits annually at the college's ambulatory clinics.

Although OU's presence in Tulsa has been longstanding, it changed dramatically in 1999. As a result of the transformational $10 million gift from the Charles and Lynn Schusterman Family Foundation and the leadership of President David L. Boren, OU was able to purchase 60 acres at the corner of 41st and Yale, previously the BPAmoco Research Center. The OU programs in Tulsa had been located in a wide variety of physical locations. By the fall of 2002, all OU academic programs in Tulsa were located at the Schusterman Center campus. This campus has allowed OU to better serve the community by providing a strong, centralized identity in Tulsa.

In February of 2008, the George Kaiser Family Foundation made a $50 million gift to the OU College of Medicine in Tulsa allowing the College of Medicine to have the explicit focus to improve the health status of underserved communities. To reflect that change, the name of the College of Medicine in Tulsa was changed to the OU School of Community Medicine, the first in the nation. The School of Community Medicine remains an integral part of the OU College of Medicine. The University of Tulsa and the University of Oklahoma welcomed its first class of students to the School of Community Medicine four-year educational track in Tulsa in 2015. The Tandy Education Center also opened in 2015 and is a space that provides students the opportunity to practice lifelike circumstances using models and virtual reality. It is a state-of-the-art facility that features the latest advances in medical simulation.

OU EXTENDED CAMPUS - COLLEGE OF PROFESSIONAL AND CONTINUING STUDIES

OU Extended Campus - College of Professional and Continuing Studies (EC-PACS) exists to provide access to transformational, world-class University of Oklahoma degrees, certifications, and programs for a diverse group of learners. OU Extended Campus is best characterized by the populations it serves, as well as the specialized academic programming it offers. Primarily focusing on the higher education needs of place-bound working adults, military-connected personnel, and those seeking specialized study in selected professional areas (such as Aviation), the College offers a variety of degrees at both graduate and undergraduate levels, including several programs offered collaboratively with other OU Colleges, and utilizing a variety of delivery modes (fully online, hybrid, onsite, cohort-based, etc.). To facilitate understanding of the complex world in which we live and building on its historical roots, the College emphasizes a holistic approach to learning, focuses on the immediate application of learning to one's life and work, promotes lifelong learning opportunities, and encourages the work of active citizenship.

While its programs were originally developed for adult and non-traditional students, many of the activities offered by the College also serve students enrolled in conventional academic programs, as well as the general public. Therefore, in addition to the full-time degree program offerings noted above, EC-PACS is also committed to meeting the educational needs of a wide variety of learners and organizations seeking smaller scale academic options, including credit courses, workshops, academic conferences, certification programs, executive academic programs and academically-oriented professional training services.

HIGHLIGHTS OF 2021

The University of Oklahoma

January 2022

On Sept. 17, OU celebrated the inauguration of Joseph Harroz Jr. as the university's 15th president with events designed to showcase the unique OU spirit and the university's bright future.

OU's Class of 2025 was the largest, most diverse and highest academically qualified freshman class in the school's 131-year history. The class included 4,582 students, with 38% identifying as minorities and a quarter of whom were first-generation college students. The class also boasted a higher GPA than any other incoming class, with an average high school GPA of 3.66.

Despite challenges posed by the pandemic, the university continued to make bold strides toward achieving its goal of becoming a nationally leading public research university. Research at OU has grown at rates exceeding its goals set forth in the Strategic Plan, which calls for 7% to 10% annual growth in research expenditures over seven years, relative to FY2019. As of FY2021, research expenditures reached over $395.3 million university-wide – an increase of 24.47% since the FY2019 benchmark. Behind these successes is the ingenuity of OU's world-class research community. As of 2021, OU had created three of the four multidisciplinary centers of excellence described in Pillar 5 of the Strategic Plan. These institutes catalyze OU's efforts in aerospace, defense and global security; energy and environmental sustainability; and society and community transformation for which OU research can make direct and tangible impact.

The OU Board of Regents approved the transition of University Advancement services to the OU Foundation – the independent, not-for-profit organization that encourages and supports charitable giving for the benefit of OU. The move fully integrates the fundraising organization, leading to a strategic and holistic alignment of fundraising goals with university priorities.

In April, OU hosted a three-day symposium to commemorate the 100-year anniversary of the Tulsa Race Massacre. Featuring a variety of in-person and virtual events, including keynote presentations, plenary talks and a premiere performance by the OU School of Dance, the symposium capped off a yearlong initiative across the university to educate and provide the community an opportunity to reflect on the centennial.

OU was selected by The Princeton Review as a "Best Value College for 2021," recognizing the university among the top schools in the nation for exceptional academics, affordability and strong career prospects. OU also ranks highly in several of The Princeton Review's rankings lists, based on data collected for the Best Value Colleges list, including Top 20 Public Best Schools for Internships (No. 6), Top 20 Public Best Schools for Financial Aid (No. 8), Top 20 Public Best Alumni Networks (No. 9), Top 20 Public Best Schools for Making an Impact (No. 15) and Best Value Public Colleges (No. 50).

After more than a year of pandemic-induced challenges, OU held in-person graduation ceremonies in May and December to honor the achievements and resilience of its graduates. With health precautions at the forefront, the ceremonies marked the first in-person graduation events held at OU since 2019.

The spring 2021 semester marked OU's 19th consecutive semester with a cumulative student-athlete GPA above a 3.00. The cumulative 3.19 recorded by OU's student-athletes during the 2021 spring semester tied for the highest single-semester mark in recorded school history.

The OU Regents approved the addition of Cross Village to OU Housing's suite of on-campus living communities, making it the largest expansion of housing for the OU freshman experience since the mid-1960s.

Giving to the University of Oklahoma for fiscal year 2021 brought in a record $231 million plus in commitments, with an additional $10 million in new, committed legacy gifts to benefit the university's mission.

OU research was increasingly driving economic growth – generating results that have resonated with the state Legislature. In 2021, Oklahoma legislators designated the most state funding for the benefit of OU in nearly 20 years – totaling more than $94 million in multi-year commitments. Beyond directly supporting OU's research and teaching mission, this significant investment acts as an economic engine for our state and society.

OU's legacy of excellence in weather and atmospheric sciences was renewed with a $208 million commitment from the National Oceanic Atmospheric Administration to establish a national hub for severe weather research. Headquartered at OU, the Cooperative Institute for Severe and High-Impact Weather Research and Operations brings together federal, academic and industry partners nationwide.

The university received a realized planned gift of $45 million from Earl and Fran Ziegler that will fund student scholarships, fellowships and enhancements to OU's Fran and Earl Ziegler College of Nursing, in addition to underwriting cancer research at OU Health Stephenson Cancer Center, petroleum engineering scholarships and an operational endowment for the Sam Noble Museum.

On June 29, Oklahoma health care took a major step forward with the historic agreement signed between OU and University Hospitals Authority and Trust to merge their clinics and hospitals into Oklahoma's first comprehensive academic health system – OU Health. The merger created new, singular leadership, operational and financial functions, aimed at delivering a seamless patient experience, improving care outcomes, bringing more access to the latest treatments found nowhere else in the state, and fueling economic growth.

During the 2020-2021 academic year, an all-time record of more than $35 million was awarded to students, including student-athletes, on all three campuses from privately funded scholarships.

The OU Board of Regents in July unanimously authorized proceedings that allowed its athletics program to join the Southeastern Conference in 2025 after the expiration of the Big 12 Conference's current media rights agreements. This was done to sustain the university's tradition of national-caliber athletics excellence, strengthen OU's flagship university as a whole and serve the wider interests of the state of Oklahoma.

Three OU students earned prestigious national academic awards in 2021: an OU senior was awarded a Fulbright grant to learn and teach abroad; a junior was named a 2021 Goldwater Scholar for outstanding achievements in science and mathematics; and an OU senior received the Boren Award for International Study, sponsored by the National Security Education Program.

OU received a historic, transformational gift from the family of renowned educator and scientist Homer L. Dodge, a former OU faculty member, department chair and dean. The donation was allocated equally between the College of Arts and Sciences and its Homer L. Dodge Department of Physics and Astronomy – predominantly benefiting student scholarships and research fellowships. In appreciation of this gift, the college was renamed the Dodge Family College of Arts and Sciences.

OU participated in the observance of Free Speech Week, a national non-partisan celebration of First Amendment freedoms. Held during the third week of October, OU held events and programming designed to emphasize that diverse perspectives are welcomed and integral to the educational environment.

OU held a ceremony at the century-old OU Armory to celebrate the revitalization of its Reserve Officers' Training Corps facilities and the impact of significant ROTC scholarships made possible by a $20 million gift in 2018 from Miriam and James Mulva.

Six key OU humanities programs benefited from a record-breaking $500,000 American Rescue Plan grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities, the largest ever total grant from the NEH for OU. “New Stories of the West, for the West,” a joint initiative of public-facing OU humanities projects, was a momentous national recognition of the exceptional humanities scholarship and public outreach conducted at OU.

The Hudson College of Public Health launched Achieving a Healthy Oklahoma initiative to assess the state’s preparedness for future pandemics and other public health threats. The multi-sector initiative assembled community leaders from across the public and private sectors to evaluate the lessons learned from the COVID-19 pandemic and to develop policy recommendations aimed at preparing Oklahomans for future public health emergencies.

For the eighth time in the past nine years, OU was awarded the Davis Cup in recognition of its record-setting enrollment of Davis United World College international freshmen, with an all-time high of 85 Davis UWC Scholars in the OU Class of 2025. OU also boasted the largest total enrollment of Davis United World College Scholars in the United States, with 285 UWC Scholars representing 107 countries.

The computer science program at OU-Tulsa was expanded to support the workforce and applied research needs of companies in Tulsa and northeastern Oklahoma. In partnership with the George Kaiser Family Foundation, OU-Tulsa increased its focus on important areas of computer science by hiring new faculty and staff to provide instruction and constructing new teaching and research labs to provide experiential learning opportunities.

OU’s Transformative Tutoring Initiative, a two-year pilot program providing select high school students with high-dosage math tutoring aimed at closing learning gaps, received nearly $3 million from Randall and Lenise Stephenson to fund both the tutoring implementation, which began in fall 2021, and research analysis of its results.

The Sooners entered the 2022 calendar year with 39 national championships in athletics and had produced at least one NCAA team champion in eight of the past nine years (none during the 2020 calendar year; most winter and spring 2020 NCAA national championship events were canceled due to the COVID-19 pandemic), with the last title produced by softball in spring 2021. Men’s gymnastics led all OU sports programs with 12 national team titles.

OU had won 295 conference titles since its first in 1915. Softball and men’s gymnastics had won nine consecutive league championships (2012-21), while wrestling’s 2021 Big 12 title was its first since 2002.

Notes: 1) Tulsa employees are included in Norman Campus and Health Sciences Center Campus counts.

2) The large changes in Health Sciences Center employees in Fall 2021 are due to the creation of OU Health, which is organizationally separate from the University. Many faculty and staff previously employed by the College of Medicine are now OU Health employees (decreasing those counts), while some clinical faculty now have part-time appointments to cover their teaching duties (increasing those counts).

2013-2015	Applicants will be considered for admission using a holistic review and selection process which considers several factors that predict academic success (i.e., high school grade point average, high school course rigor, academic engagement, writing ability, leadership, and ACT/SAT scores). Although the University of Oklahoma is reviewing every application through the holistic process, it will continue to report the percentage of admitted and enrolled students subject to the alternative admissions standards and will not enroll more than 8% as dictated by Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education. Through Spring 2016, the University of Oklahoma will offer admission to resident students who meet or exceed previous admission standards. The holistic process will determine whether a conditional, contractual, and time-limited admissions offer is made to these resident students.
2016-2019	Applicants will be considered for admission using a holistic review and selection process which considers several factors that predict academic success (i.e., high school grade point average, high school course rigor, academic engagement, writing ability, leadership, and ACT/SAT scores). Although the University of Oklahoma is reviewing every application through the holistic process, it will continue to report the percentage of admitted and enrolled students subject to the alternative admissions standards and will not enroll more than 8% as dictated by Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education.
2020 to Present	Applicants will be considered for admission using the holistic review and selection process described just above, except for a change in our testing policy. OU is test-optional and will consider test scores if provided, but they are not necessary for the holistic admission process.

2) The retention and graduation rates include students beginning on the Norman Campus who enrolled at or graduated from the OU Health Sciences Center.

Notes: 1) While International (nonresident alien) students also answer the two race/ethnicity questions, their answers are excluded from this area of reporting due to federal guidelines.

2) The US Department of Education's IPEDS system gathers enrollment information in a way that requires each student to be in a single race/ethnicity category to prevent a student being counted multiple times and inflating enrollment figures. To accommodate those students who picked more than one race/ethnicity, they are shown in official reporting counts in the "Two or More Races" category rather than in each individual category selected.

Note: The large changes in Health Sciences Center employees in Fall 2021 are due to the creation of OU Health, which is organizationally separate from the University. Many faculty and staff previously employed by the College of Medicine are now OU Health employees (decreasing those counts), while some clinical faculty now have part-time appointments to cover their teaching duties (increasing those counts).

Notes: 1) While International (nonresident alien) students also answer the two race/ethnicity questions, their answers are excluded from this area of reporting due to federal guidelines.

2) The US Department of Education's IPEDS system gathers enrollment information in a way that requires each student to be in a single race/ethnicity category to prevent a student being counted multiple times and inflating enrollment figures. To accommodate those students who picked more than one race/ethnicity, they are show in official reporting counts in the "Two or More Races" category rather than in each individual category selected.

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA - EXTENDED CAMPUS

OU Extended Campus - College of Professional and Continuing Studies (EC-PACS) exists to provide access to transformational, world-class University of Oklahoma degrees, certifications, and programs for a diverse group of learners. OU Extended Campus is best characterized by the populations it serves, as well as the specialized academic programming it offers. Primarily focusing on the higher education needs of place-bound working adults, military-connected personnel, and those seeking specialized study in selected professional areas (such as Aviation), the College offers a variety of degrees at both graduate and undergraduate levels, including several programs offered collaboratively with other OU Colleges, and utilizing a variety of delivery modes (fully online, hybrid, onsite, cohort-based, etc.). To facilitate understanding of the complex world in which we live and building on its historical roots, the College emphasizes a holistic approach to learning, focuses on the immediate application of learning to one's life and work, promotes lifelong learning opportunities, and encourages the work of active citizenship.

While its programs were originally developed for adult and non-traditional students, many of the activities offered by the College also serve students enrolled in conventional academic programs, as well as the general public. Therefore, in addition to the full-time degree program offerings noted above, EC-PACS is also committed to meeting the educational needs of a wide variety of learners and organizations, including credit and non-credit courses, workshops, academic conferences, certification programs, executive academic programs and academically-rich professional training services.
